2 BACKGROUND
i.	As per the Census (2011), Tamil Nadu is the sixth most populous state in India with a population of 72 million, which includes the proportion (1.63 percent) of persons with disabilities compared to national average of 2.21 percent. A study that used pooled data from the District Level Household Survey-4 (2012-13) and Annual Health Survey 2 nd updation round (2012-13) reveals that there are 4550 persons with disabilities amongst every 100,000 population in Tamil Nadu thereby indicating a much higher prevalence of disability in comparison to the census data. Therefore, if one goes by the estimates of this recent study, there would be about 3.2 million people in Tamil Nadu living with some form of disabilities. Moreover, even these estimations appear on the lower side especially since the definition and type of disabilities has undergone a change to include a larger population group since the promulgation of Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016
ii.	Persons with disabilities face multiple socio economic constraints including poorer health outcomes, lower education levels, limited economic participation,

		and higher rates of poverty compared to persons without disabilities. They often experience exclusion and barriers in accessing health services, education, employment, transportation, information as well as care and rehabilitation services. Furthermore, households with a disabled member are more likely to experience material hardships—including food insecurity, poor housing, lack of access to safe water and sanitation, and inadequate access to healthcare. Thus, these limitations and barriers not only hinder their full and effective participation in the society, but also affect the country’s productive potential, the human capital. In order to increase the human capital and reduce the achievement gap among people with disabilities, a coordinated and comprehensive package of interventions appears warranted for addressing the individual and community contexts at both, multiple and systemic levels.
	iii.	Tamil Nadu has always been a pioneer in the implementation of welfare schemes for all sections of socially disadvantaged groups. The Department for the Welfare of the Differently Abled (DWDAP), through its various initiatives and schemes have extended full support to the differently abled people in their pursuit of full and equal involvement in every aspect of society. The DWDAP is largely responsible for all administrative, statutory and service delivery functions, which is implemented through its well experienced workforce at the state, district and local levels. The thrust areas of the DWDAP are: prevention and early interventions, special education, employment &amp; vocational training, social security (maintenance allowance, travel concession, assistance to NGOs), aids &amp; appliances, and barrier free structure. Recently, DWDAP conducted a pilot project in a few blocks of the state and has identified a need for multi-sectoral, whole-government, and capacity building approach to care and rehabilitation of the differently abled.
	iv.	The RIGHTS Project focuses on three pillars: first, promote inclusion of all by ensuring that persons with disabilities participate equally with others in any activity and service intended for the general public, such as education, health, employment, and social services; second, improve the access of specialized programs by investing in specific measures for quality care, rehabilitation and support services; and third, provide opportunities for persons with disabilities for completion of education, skills training and market-linked employment opportunities. However, to manage the project at the proposed scale, substantial efforts would be required to build the current institutional capacity of the DWDA
